CAUSAL FACTOR FOR THE SUPPLEMENT

I. Replacement information pertaining to the section "RISK FACTORS"

The 2nd paragraph under the heading "RISK FACTORS SPECIFIC AND MATERIAL TO THE ISSUER – 1.3 Overarching bank-related risk factors – 1.3.1 Issuer Risk" on pages 19 and 20 of the Supplemented Prospectus shall be replaced by the following:

"This could manifest itself for example by a rapid downgrade of DZ BANK's rating (issuer rating). Should DZ BANK's issuer rating fall below the level considered as an investment grade rating, then this could be seen as an indicator of a heightened threat of insolvency. If a rating agency assigns an investment grade rating to the issuer risk, this can be understood in principle to mean that the rating agency only sees a limited default risk in relation to the Issuer in question. At the beginning of the fourth quarter of the 2021 fiscal year, the major rating agencies S&P Global Ratings Europe Limited (Germany branch)¹ ("S&P"), Moody's Deutschland GmbH² ("Moody's") and Fitch Ratings – a branch of Fitch Ratings Ireland Limited³ ("Fitch") assign DZ BANK an issuer rating which is, with respect to S&P, in the third-highest, and with respect to Moody's and Fitch, in the respective second-highest investment grade category. Two rating changes in the fiscal year 2021 preceded the current rating situation: in the second quarter, S&P lowered the rating of DZ BANK by one notch and changed the outlook associated therewith from negative to stable. The reason for that was a dampened view on the German banking market taken as a whole. From S&P's point of view there exists a long-term pressure on the profitability of German banks stemming from structural deficits like a high cost basis, increasing risks resulting from a technological disruption of the market and the continuing low interest rates.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter of the 2021 fiscal year also Moody's lowered the issuer rating of DZ BANK by one notch. At the same time, the outlook was changed from negative to stable. The reason for the downgrade is an amended view of the future prospects of the Cooperative Financial Services Network (Genossenschaftliche FinanzGruppe) Volksbanken Raiffeisenbanken as a whole. Moody's considers the unfavourable interest environment as a challenge for profitability and productivity.

Moody's' assessment of DZ BANK did not change. Because of the amended view on the Cooperative Financial Services Network (Genossenschaftliche FinanzGruppe) Volksbanken Raiffeisenbanken the ability to support the DZ BANK is considered to be lower than before. The consequence is a downgrade by one notch. The rating of Fitch was confirmed in the second quarter of the fiscal year 2021 and is unchanged since then; the outlook was raised from negative to stable.

Even after the downgrade by S&P and Moody's the rating of DZ BANK still remains in the investment grade category, which is also the case with respect to the rating by Fitch."

The 2nd paragraph under the heading "RISK FACTORS SPECIFIC AND MATERIAL TO THE ISSUER – 1.3 Overarching bank-related risk factors – 1.3.3 Rating downgrades" on pages 21 and 22 of the Supplemented Prospectus shall be replaced by the following:

"At the beginning of the fourth quarter of the fiscal year 2021, DZ BANK holds an issuer rating which is, with respect to S&P, in the third-highest, and with respect to Moody's and Fitch, in the respective second-highest category of Investment Grade sector from the Rating Agencies. Two rating changes in the fiscal year 2021 preceded the current rating situation: in the second quarter, S&P lowered the rating of DZ BANK by one notch and changed the outlook associated therewith from negative to stable. The reason for that was a dampened view on the German banking market taken as a whole. It cannot be ruled out that S&P, Fitch and Moody's will lower the ratings of DZ BANK and possibly of its subsidiaries further. Even after a further downgrade by one notch the rating of DZ BANK would still remain in the investment grade category. Fitch, however, confirmed the rating of DZ BANK in the second quarter of the fiscal year 2021 and raised the outlook from negative to stable."
